

United States Court of Appeals
For the Eighth Circuit

No. 15-2478

United States of America

Plaintiff - Appellee

v.

Johnathan S. Moser

Defendant - Appellant

Appeal from United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri - Kansas City

Submitted: October 13, 2015

Filed: October 16, 2015

Before WOLLMAN, BYE, and GRUENDER, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Johnathan Moser directly appeals the sentence that the district court¹ imposed upon revoking his supervised release, arguing that the 18-month sentence, which is above the advisory Guidelines range, is substantively unreasonable. Upon careful review, see United States v. Miller, 557 F.3d 910, 915-16 (8th Cir. 2009) (appellate review of revocation sentence), we conclude that the revocation sentence is not unreasonable, as the district court gave sufficient reasons to support the sentence. See United States v. Larison, 432 F.3d 921, 924 (8th Cir. 2006) (affirming statutory maximum revocation sentence where district court justified decision by giving supporting reasons). We grant counsel's motion to withdraw.

The judgment is affirmed.
